Yesterday the railroad bridge to Amiens was blown up, and, in short, nothing has been left to chance.

At the Ministry I am informed that there is talk of removing the administration to Tours, or beyond the Loire, during the siege of Paris.

This is necessary that the Ministry should have elbow room. I shall desire to have it too, and it is not impossible that I may follow the flag.

ANOTHER HESTER VAUGHAN CASE.

A Babe Strangled and Hid in a Closet.

Yesterday morning the Coroner was notified to hold an inquest upon the body of a female infant, apparently about one month old, found at the depot of the Philadelphia, Germantown and Norristown Railroad Company, Ninth and Green streets.

Deputy Coroner Sees at once proceeded to the spot, and from the appearance of the body and the surrounding circumstances, he pronounced the infant until a post mortem examination was made by Dr. Shapeleigh, when it was ascertained that the child had been murdered.

The murderer, or more probably murderers, had first grasped the infant around the neck and pressing her face against the side of the neck caused suffocation. To make sure of the work being complete, a handkerchief was then tied around the throat and drawn tight.

The corpse of the murdered infant was discovered by a lady in an iron washstand in the ladies' department at the depot. Shocked by the discovery she gave voice to a series of screams, which brought in the watchman, who in turn called in a couple of policemen and delivered them to the body.

How long it had remained there is not known. The case is now in the hands of the detectives.

THE LAST LAMP EXPLOSION.—We have received the following communication:—

OFFICE OF INSPECTOR OF REFINED PETROLEUM AND BURNING OILS, No. 117 ARCH STREET, PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 29, 1870.—Editor Evening Telegraph.—

On the morning of the 27th instant an account of an explosion of a coal-oil lamp at No. 735 S. Fourth street. Upon an investigation into the facts of the case I find the accident was not from any defect in the lamp, but from the use of a fluid, which is nothing but benzine, or a mixture of benzine and other ingredients.

If persons will continue to purchase and burn in lamps of this character, after so many repeated warnings through the press of this city, they must expect accidents to occur. Most of the explosions which have happened are not from coal oil, but from the use of the described fluid, which, in the opinion of courts, do not come within the scope of the act of Assembly, or from any defect in the lamp, but from the use of a stop to their sale. Respectfully, R. M. EYER.

CREELEY VS. O'NEILL.—This morning a meeting of the sub-committee of the Republican State Central Committee appointed to investigate the matter of contest for the Congressional nomination in the Second district, between Messrs. FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

Evening Telegraph Office, Monday, Aug. 29, 1870.

The week opens with an active demand for money, but for business and speculative purposes the market remains very steady.

The banks are being gradually drained of their resources, the money current having firmly set in towards the West. Nearly all the markets in those sections exhibit increased ease in money.

Among the numerous articles there were trilling sales of Morris Canal preferred at 67 1/2 and Second and Third Streets at 46 1/2 @ 47.
